

Richard Clegg and Simon Manuel are pleased to announce the appointment of Andrew Young to the firm's employment practice.

With over 5 years experience in employment law, Andrew not only represents clients in contentious employment matters but also provides support for all other aspects of the employment relationship including recruitment, contract preparation, performance management and company reorganizations (including redundancies).

In addition to employment law matters Andrew has extensive experience providing advice to clients in a wide range of commercial litigation matters including breach of contract, insolvency and shareholder disputes.

Clegg Manuel LLP has been established for 9 years and set up its employment department in response to its clients' needs.

Partner, Simon Manuel commented "We have always worked hard to listen and respond to the needs of our clients and found that in the past 12 months we were getting more instructions in employment related matters".

"Clients that have traditionally only used the firm's services for property work are now seeking our advice on other matters. We are busy because we are able to adapt to our clients' changing needs by ensuring that we provide them with the best possible service for their businesses".
